Patriotism Personified

Hugh Thomas, owner-manager of the Grove Theatre, has devised a plan to "do my little part" in carrying out true patriotism.

Sometime during each evening's film entertainment, usually between the features, patrons are asked to stand while the National Anthem is played and the American flag projected on the screen.

Thomas announces that if this moment of respect to the flag is against one's religion, he or she should step out into the lobby until the Star Spangled Banner has ended. Those who remain seated are told to leave the theatre.

This "special" moment of respect was started at the Grove Theatre last Sept. 4, and Thomas estimates that he has asked some 75 persons to leave the theatre since that time.

According to Thomas, the reasons are divided "about half and half." Some for religious reasons and others for "purely antagonistic" reasons.

There are more persons, however, who have commended Thomas for his display of patriotism both through letters and verbal contact.

"Too many persons are complacent about what we have in this country," he says.

Thomas also owns a theatre in Huntington Beach which is managed by his son, Larry.

Larry Thomas was recipient of the Americanism Award on Dec. 8 for this same display of patriotism by the Huntington Beach American Legion Post 133.

HS District Bond, Tax Rate Election Set For March 10

Resolutions calling for a $7,310,00 bond election combined with a tax rate election on March 10, 1964 were passed unanimously Monday night by the Chaffey High School District Board of Trustees.

The specifics on how the bond money would be used will be spelled out as soon as the site for a second Ontario High School is determined.

In addition to the second Ontario school, the bond money will provide additions to Montclair and Upland High Schools, a site for a second Upland High School and an auditorium for the present Upland High.

The tax rate election will seek a continuance of the present $1.70 per $100 assessed valuation rate, which will expire June 30, 1965, for another five years.

According to Supt. Allan G. Smith and Business Manager J. Milo Thomas, the $1.70 maximum rate will provide sufficient funds for the operation of the school district, at least in the immediate future.

The Chaffey High School District Teachers Association has recorded itself in favor of submitting the tax rate proposal at the March 10 election, but requested that it be extended indefinitely.

The arguments of the Teachers Association in favor of an indefinite extension of the $1.70 rate as presented to the trustees are:

1. Because of law requiring preparation and approval of budget by certain dates, and the fact that 1964 is a general election year which restricts the dates school elections can be held, the March date is the only one feasible.

2. The $1.70 rate is sufficient to provide funds for the district especially in view of a considerable increase in assessed valuation last year, the fact that possibly additional funds will be available for state aid, and the reserves are now approaching $600,000, ending the annual drain which has been necessary during the past few years to bring that to required level.

3. If the $1.70 is insufficient, the schools can always ask for more. If more than $1.70 is asked, defeat is possible, returning the tax rate to $.75.

4. If the ballot asks that the present rate be retained indefinitely the public may be more receptive in the belief that this does not mean a possible increase, although that is a possibility as noted in No. 3 above.

5. If $1.70 is sought for only 5 years there will have to be another election at which time there is always the possibility that the rate will be voted down. Since there is apathy at school elections, a disgruntled minority of the populace as a whole can seriously jeopardize our schools.

6. It is not logical to say that the public should have a regular opportunity to review school policy by voting on tax rates. Its control over schools is ample in its ability to vote trustees in and out of office. Denial of funds because of disagreement on how they are spent or how the schools are operated is a drastic method of exercising democratic control.

Supt. Smith, in an agenda item for the board, said, however, that "the five year period, under which we are now operating, requires returning to the voters for continuance or increase of the authorized maximum every five years.

"Although not as desirable as the indefinite time period from a budgetary standpoint, a limited time period does provide an opportunity for the voters to register periodic approval of the educational program just as they do when trustees are elected."

City To Cooperate In Region Planning For Area To East

At the urging of Councilman James L. Christensen, the Upland City Council Tuesday night agreed to participate in a committee to be formed to control the planning of the 12 square miles of unincorporated territory between the cities of Upland, Ontario and Fontana.

Councilmen Christensen, William Kistinger and City Manager Elwin Alder attended a meeting Dec. 11 in Fontana for the purpose of discussing the economic development of this area.

Spurred on by his feeling of necessity for the formation of a permanent group to "police" the area for proper development, Councilman Christensen wrote the following letter to Mayor Abner Haldeman and the Council:

"On December 11th in the City of Fontana at the invitation of Mayor Simon a group of interested persons from various political jurisdictions met for the purpose of discussing the future of the large twelve square miles of unincorporated area between the cities of Ontario, Upland and Fontana.

"It was generally agreed by all present that there is need for cooperation by the cities and county, as well as property owners and existing industries to assure proper planning for this large area.

"The people at this meeting voted to establish a committee composed of nine members. One councilman and one designate from each of the three cities, a member of the Board of Supervisors, and a representative of the major industries or large property owners of the area.

"It is hoped that each city will actively support the formation of this committee and thereby work together in a regional planning effort for the purposeful economic development of this part of San Bernardino County.

"Please forward the names of your selected representatives to me c/o Upland City Hall at your earliest convenience. It is hoped the full committee can meet the first time by the 15th of January, 1964.

"Thanking you in advance for your cooperation and looking forward to the task at hand, I remain."

Christensen said he believed it was necessary to take an active part in such an "advisory" committee "to keep our fingers on the pulse of the area."

Councilman Kistinger said he would want to take a real good look at the intent of the committee and believed the County has done a good job of controlling the area.

"Perhaps we can aid the County in planning," Kistinger said, "but what about our City-County Coordinating Council and the new Formation Agency? It appears that there will be considerable overlapping."

Christensen said we still have to be aware of what is going on and not leave the planning to others.

"Upland has a definite stake in the area and we should take part," he said.

Councilman Bob Marriott and Mayor Haldeman both expressed opinions that the proposed committee should be sanctioned by the Board of Supervisors.

According to Christensen, one of the initial actions of the committee when formed would be to seek county approval.

Kistinger presented the motion to cooperate with the plan "if the interest is well defined to aid in the planning of the unincorporated area."

Mayor Haldeman appointed Councilman Christensen and City Manager Elwin Alder as Upland's representatives to the committee.

3 Fire Depts To Share Duty On Freeway

Three area Fire Departments have reached agreement on specific portions of the San Bernardino Freeway to cover in case of emergencies.

The agreement was necessary because of the newly installed center barriers making it difficult for emergency vehicles to cross over from one lane to another.

The Upland, Monte Vista and Ontario Departments will handle certain sections which may, at times, overlap into the actual territory of another department.

The Upland Fire Department will cover from Euclid Ave. to Mountain Ave. on the north side of the freeway and from Euclid Ave. to 4th St. on the south side of the freeway.

The Monte Vista Department will handle emergencies on the north and south sides of the freeway between the county line and Central Ave. and between Central and Mountain Aves. on the south side.

Ontario will handle the south side between Euclid Ave. and Mountain, the north side between Mountain and Central, and the north side between Euclid and 4th St.

The areas to be covered were arranged by mutual agreement because of easiest access.

SCHOOL VACATION

Schools will begin their Christmas vacation at the end of the day Friday, Dec. 20, and will reconvene Monday, Jan. 6.

REV. JOHN D. HARRISON, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, reveals the exhibit of ancient Holy Land artifacts which will be on display at the church Wednesday night and Sunday. Many of the relics are more than 5,000 years old from the Old Testament era. Father Harrison is holding an ancient sling stone and replica of sling used in warfare thousands of years ago. The exhibit is on loan from the Pacific School of Religion.

Parks, Recreation Committee Recommends 'New' Parkway

The Upland Parks and Recreation Committee voted Monday night to recommend to the City Council that the latest plans for the Euclid Parkway be carried out.

The recommendation includes five varieties of trees planted in waves along the parkway, decorative concrete walls with three flag poles placed at 7th St. and the south side of Foothill Blvd., and a modern reflection pool in front of the Madonna of the Trail monument on the north side of Foothill.

The decision was not unanimous, however, with Councilman Max Hawkins, committee chairman, voting against the recommendation.

Added to the recommendation was that the City should plant additional shade trees in the area between 9th and C Sts.

According to Hawkins, that was "the only thing that everyone's unanimous on."

"Our instructions were to ignore that section, but we can add this to our recommendations," Hawkins said.

The recommendations are expected to go to the Council for action at the Jan. 7 meeting.

Committee member Mrs. Wenger told the group that "there is something that is kind of bad about human nature.

"If there is something you like you are inclined to keep still, but if there is something you don't like, you blow up," she said. "Now the day we had the hearing, did you notice how many people who didn't like it before, stood up and said, 'Now I like it' "?

Mrs. Wenger mentioned that she had talked to immediate past president of the Upland Chamber of Commerce, Ted Grimm, who was against the previous landscape design proposal.

According to Mrs. Wenger, Grimm had said the new design is "very nice."

If people don't like something, they find time to write in about it, she told the committee.

Committee member Mrs. Gordon Nicholson also said that "Jack Atwood told me he approved the new plans. He thought we had done very well and he was not in favor before."

John Andreas said he was concerned that the finger would be pointed at architect Paul Hershey.

"He was asked to do this job by the city and by this group and I think he has done a fine job," Andreas said.

The committee's newest member, Richard Holdaway had the most to say about the new design, a proposed referendum and his individual thinking.

"I don't know how you resolve this thing in a committee meeting of this sort," he said, "and certainly in the election you would never resolve it, because you would never satisfy those few people.

Council Gets More Letters On Parkway

Four more letters were read to the City Council Tuesday night in opposition to the "modernizing" of the Euclid Ave. Parkway.

Councilman Max Hawkins, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, asked that the letters be brought to the Council meeting of Jan. 7 when a definite decision on the Parkway is expected.

Full text of the letters follow:

City Council - Dear Sirs:

I wish to register my appeal to you to retain the present pattern of rows of trees along Euclid Avenue. Also I am against the suggested re-

City Clerk Will Not Run

Kistinger, Marriott Eye Re-Election To City Council

Upland City Councilmen William Kistinger and Bob Marriott, whose terms expire in April, 1964, have expressed their interest in seeking re-election in the April 14 City Election.

Kistinger, 1188 W. 16th St., will have served two terms on the Council. He was appointed in 1957 to complete the unexpired term of Mayor Tweed Stone who resigned. Kistinger was re-elected in 1960.

He is presently on the Board of Directors of the San Antonio Water Co. and a member of the Local Agency and Formation Commission, which has life and death power over proposed annexations or incorporation proposals.

"I have a profound interest in the social and economic development of Upland as a growing community," Kistinger said. "I am not affiliated with nor committed to any interest other than the community in its entirety."

Councilman Marriott, 1678 N. Laurel, is manager of Boyd Lumber Co. and will complete his first four-year term.

"I have two reasons for planning to seek re-election, Marriott said. "First, I am greatly interested in the development of Upland and this is the best way to take an active part. Second, quite a number of people have asked me to continue to serve."

Mrs. Hazel Cassell, Upland City Clerk since 1945, will not seek re-election.

Looking forward to retirement in July of 1965, Mrs. Cassell will continue to serve the city as Director of Finance between April 21, 1964, when a new City Clerk will be seated and her date of retirement.

Originally from Wyoming, she came to Upland in 1921 and has worked for the City of Upland since 1940.

She was secretary to City Manager Richard Manley for the first two years of her city career. She was transferred to the Water Dept. in 1942, appointed City Clerk to fill an unexpired term in 1945 and has won re-election since 1946.

Mrs. Cassell will have the burden for the coming city election next April for the last time.

She has advised that potential candidates for Councilman or City Clerk may pick up petitions beginning Jan. 30 and the deadline for filing is noon on Feb. 20.

Mrs. Cassell is also seeking election workers for the city election and will need 60 persons to man the 15 consolidated precincts. Only eight

Holy Land Artifacts On Display

Ancient artifacts from the Holy Land are now on display at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Euclid Ave. and F St., Upland.

The Rev. John D. Harrison, rector, announced that the parish hall will be open to visitors on Wednesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m., and on Sunday from 12 noon to 2 p.m.

The exhibit, on loan from the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, contains artifacts that were excavated from ancient villages in the Holy Land. Some of the relics are more than 5,000 years old, during the Old Testament era. Others are from the times of the New Testament.

Father Harrison said that the exhibit should be of interest to people of all faiths, and everyone is welcome to view the priceless relics at this Christmas season.

There are cosmetics, oil lamps, cookng utensils, and other articles used during the ancient times. Photographs of the excavations will be on display, as well as diagrams of the cities as they were thousands of years ago.

Most of the articles came from the city of Mizpah, north of Jericho. Some are from Palestine. All of them are at least 2,000 years old, but are in excellent state of preservation.

Father Harrison said that the display was arranged by the church as an appropriate program for the holidays.

Postmaster Asks Help To Avoid Last Minute Pile-up

"The time has passed to talk about "Mailing Early For Christmas," Acting Postmaster John W. James said today, "but you can still help us to avoid a tremendous last minute pile-up of Christmas mail if you'll send all your gift packages and Christmas cards right now!"

To the inevitable last minute mailers he suggests that you use Air Mail for every Christmas card or gift going to distant places out-of-town. He points out that even a few hours delay at this critical time may mean disappointment for your friends and loved ones on Christmas Day.

The Postmaster says that he expects the 1963 Christmas mails will break all records, and that the mail load will undoubtedly hit its peak within the next few days. The flood of outgoing Christmas cards and gifts is being matched by a like torrent of incoming mail that is becoming greater every day.

Postal employees are digging in harder than ever, and for your convenience, the Post Office will remain open from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 21 and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 22.

There's still time for local deliveries, but all Christmas cards should be sent by First Class mail. Be sure to include your return address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels, including your ZIP CODE!

The Postmaster expressed his thanks for the fine cooperation from the public so far, and asks continued help so that all gift packages and Christmas cards can be delivered before Christmas Eve.

The Upland Postal Employees wish a very Merry Christmas to all.

ACTING UPLAND POSTMASTER John W. James, right, receives congratulations from former Postmaster Roy A. Ray upon the announcement of his nomination to the Postmaster position by President Lyndon Johnson. Mr. Ray retired Oct. 1, 1962 and his post has been filled by Mr. James. He has been in the postal service 33 years, starting in 1931 in his native San Pedro. He was transferred to North Hollywood in 1940 and came to Upland in 1948. He became assistant Postmaster in March of 1954 when the Upland Post Office had 14 employees. The Post Office now has 40 regular employees and 13 temporary help during the Christmas season. He lives with his wife at 1231 N. Palm Ave. and has two married daughters. He is a member of the Upland Rotary Club.

Art Course At Chaffey Satisfying, Stimulating

"I find taking these art courses very satisfying because of the stimulating of learning and also because I get aesthetic and emotional fulfillment from them."

Speaker of the above words was Mrs. George M. Gibson, Upland, mother of four and married for 22 years. In many respects, Mrs. Gibson typifies women in the Chaffey community who can be found taking a variety of art courses at Chaffey College.

Four years ago, Mrs. Gibson first gratified a long-standing wish by coming to Chaffey. Since then, she has taken Basic Drawing, Figure Drawing, Posters, and Beginning Oil Painting. Currently, she is studying Commercial Art and Intermediate Oil, the former on Thursday morning and the latter on Wednesday evenings.

According to one of her instructors, Mrs. Gibson has a distinct flair in the field of art. She goes about her work with a kind of happy determination. Twice, her works have been chosen for class exhibitions at the end of courses. This she attributes in part to stimulating teachers.

Mrs. Gibson feels her studies at Chaffey have helped her meet responsibilities in the community, as she has done posters for a local hospital and for her PTA.

All art classes are open to part time students, including adults. They are offered both day and evening, though daytime classes are less crowded.

In addition to those taken by Mrs. Gibson, these are a few of the other art courses available at Chaffey: Art History and Appreciation, Basic Design; Graphic, Watercolor Painting, Beginning Ceramics, and Pictorial Composition. Mosaic work can be done in connection with ceramic courses. A few of the other courses verge into Home Economics. In fact, virtually any course in the art field can be set up if there is sufficient demand for it.

Professor Hendrik Grise of the Chaffey Art department reports that mature women take courses at the College for a number of reasons. "Some," he says, "come in for enrichment, for something at a higher level than television. Others attend because in painting at home, they miss the exchange of ideas that they can get only from groups."

What kind of woman comes to Chaffey art classes? Professor Grise notes that they range in ability from strict novices to professional artists. Coeds, housewives, and businesswomen attend. Occasionally, mother and daughter can be found taking the same or similar courses at the same time.

Probably not the least benefit to these women is the enrichment to their homes that art studies help make possible, in the opinion of Professor Grise. In summing up, he declared, "No matter what the woman's age, interest, or level of ability may be, there is something for her here at Chaffey, especially during the day."

Professors Tony Ivins, Robert Fleck, and Robert Smith compose the full time art faculty at the College. Professor Grise teaches part time, as does Mrs. Peter Tolstoy.

MRS. GEORGE M. GIBSON, Upland housewife and mother, puts the finishing touches on a drawing for her Commercial Art course at Chaffey College. In many respects, she typifies women in the community who take art courses at the College. She has taken four art courses at Chaffey, is taking two currently, and plans to take still others.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma WC Has Christmas Luncheon

The December Luncheon meeting of the Cucamonga Alta Loma Woman's Club was held on Wednesday, Dec. 11 in Sweeten Hall.

Gay holiday table decorations were furnished by different club members who entered them in a decorations contest which was judged by members. The centerpieces were given numbers, and the voting took place during the meeting.

The first prize for the most beautiful decoration went to Mrs. Herbert Vaughan. Second prize was taken by Miss Clara Young. The entry of Mrs. Maud Bonillas came in third.

Also a colorful and Christmas atmosphere was created in wall decorations by a committee consisting of Mesdames Vaughan, Ralph Santolucito and Floyd Sebring.

The luncheon plates carried out the Christmas theme, with all food in shades of red and green.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. George Nuernberger. The renewal of the pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Mrs. Ray Derfer. Mrs. A. C. Beattie, Religion Chairman, read selections from the book of Luke in the Bible, and then gave a Christmas poem, and led in the reading of the collect.

Two guests were introduced: Mrs. Hutchins and Mrs. Joseph Vidal. The latter is the daughter of club member, Mrs. Charles Doyle.

Mrs. Leland Pearson, Music Chairman, led the club in the singing of Christmas carols, following the luncheon and decorations contest. The accompanist was Mrs. Beattie.

The Program Chairman, Mrs. Clarke Boesen, then introduced Mrs. C. S. Stowell of the Upland Woman's Club. The delightful Christmas program was presented by the Drama and Music Sections of the neighboring Upland Club. Christmas music, pantomines and readings were presented. The program ranged from the light to the very serious, all carrying out the Christmas theme.

Members of the Upland Woman's Club who took part in the program were: Mesdames Stowell, Ralph Alquist, Edward Hansen, Paul Stillwell, Dean Love, Richard Dineen, Floyd Kellner, Floyd Chambers, C. P. Jacobs, Harry Wright, John Gately, A. D. Adams, R. H. Schulze, Robert Jones and Allen Palmer.

A business meeting followed the program.

Among the items of interest were two reports of club philantaropy projects. Mrs. Victor Arias told of 25 baby quilts which had been made and delivered to Santa Claus Inc. by the Homemaking Section, of which she is the Chairman.

Miss Clara Young, Garden Section Chairman, told of plants to be delivered to the Upland Chapter of the American Red Cross, for dstribution in hospital at Christmas time.

Mrs. Arthur Edelman, Dec. Luncheon Chairman, introduced her committee—namely the Mimes.: Santolucito, Vaughan, Sebring, C. T. Reaves, K. C. Hinrichsen, Mary Nimmergut, Victor Cherbak, Chester Moore, and Miss Rose Sanchez.

The meeting closed with a Christmas poem, selected and read by Mrs. Nuernberger.

Parkway Plan

vise the plan, it's hard to imagine what you would do to make it acceptable to both parties. So when you get through, you wind up with one person disagreeing with what you've done and one person maybe happy, or you might wind up somewhere in the middle where both of them are unhappy and maybe somebody else is happy.

"I think we have the responsibility to go ahead wit some plan on the Parkway and I feel this is a reasonably good one," Holdaway said.

"The flag poles, I've heard just as much for and agains as I have the Madonna reflection pool. I think this recent assassination of the president gave people cause to think and go out and buy flags. I see basically nothing wrong with the flag poles from the utility standpoint."

"Now these letters we received today," he continued, "there were three that mentioned a referendum. One of the things that you're up against is just what do you put on the ballot?

"Now this particular plan as conceived by Mr. Hershey is available to us — say this is put on the ballot. Would it be put on as a 'yes, no' basis? If they did and the majority voted no, then you'd go through this again.

"Or put that plan up with another one. Do you hire another architect to come up with an alternate plan? Would you put ten different alternate plans, say one with all pepper trees, one with all some other kind of trees, one with no flag pole, one with some flag pole?

"I wrestled with this thing some myself, just what wopld be proposed for a referendum, and I really don't know—it's a tough problem.

"So as individuals we exercise our judgment based on the experience we went through.

"I felt what was done on Euclid Ave. was a canned job, a rubber stamp, but I saw none of that on this committee. I think the committee has acted with integrity in analyzing the work of Mr. Hershey. You don't change your opinion because people write these letters, you have to be aware that there is disagreement," Holdaway concluded.

The possibility of the City of Upland having its own flag was discussed. According to City Manager Elwin Alder, this is definitely a possibility. Apparently something is needed for the third proposed flag pole along with the American flag and California State flag.

Chairman Hawkins said that if it was up to him on what would go on a referendum ballot, "it would be a choice between what is there now and just the replacement of one type of tree and no ornamental works."

"Most of the letters that I have read that came either to the Upland News or here have either been for the modern version or keep the similar kind of trees," Hawkins said.

"It would be an easy way out for everyone if we could have a referendum," Holdaway stated, "then the majority of the people who voted would make the decision, but this is not the way representative government normally is carried on."

The committee decided to recommend that the tree sizes for the five varieties be the 24-inch box, 10 foot trees.

The varieties are the Southern Magnolia Canary Island Pine, Podacarpus, Holly Oak and Segal Palm.

The next meeting of the Parks and Recreation Committee will be at 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 20.

The City Councilmen,
Gentlemen:

In our humble opinion we believe the people of Upland should be given the chance to vote on the proposed change of Euclid Avenue. Is this asking too much? And regarding the pool for the Madonna - how will you keep the public from throwing every thing under the sun into that pool? Thank you.

Dear Sirs:

I have been hearing about that the City of Upland was going to put palm trees up Euclid Avenue. I was thinking that I wouldn't like a city that was too up to date. So I am wishing that you will all just leave it like it is. I too hope that this letter will help you make up our mines.

Reading Epidemic Hits UHS

Upland High School world literature students are finding that reading can become an epidemic. An effective reading and study program has allowed these students the opportunity of becoming experts about an author of their choice.

Given three weeks at the beginning of the year for free reading, each student was asked to choose an author who had an effect upon him, either a good effect or a bad effect, and to get to know the man thoroughly.

They were to read at least six works by him, and carefully analyze them. It made no difference whether the author was liked or disliked—what was important was the reason to back up the opinion.

Beginning with reservations, the students soon found this hunt fascinating, and reading and discussion ran rampant. Some of them even completed better than 3000 pages of reading.

Now they are having the chance of presenting the author to their fellow students, attempting to impact to them their interests or disinterests about him.

Their individual interpretations of what they have read provide a contagious freshness to the study of literature.

Alta Loma Cagers Take Three Wins Over Gladstone

By Tom Abbott

Last week turned out to be the winningest week at Alta Loma High School. All three basketball teams notched victories over Gladstone on Tuesday afternoon.

At 3:15 the B team trounced over their Gladstone opponents 24 to 15. Ron Millet led the scores with eleven points. Ascension Santos scored two field goals and two free throws for six points.

Spider Carrasco hit two field goals for four points and Jim Ketner had one field goal. Don Hadley pulled down the most rebounds and garnered one point for the Braves.

Over in the Braves gym the freshmen were soundly trouncing the Gladstone frosh 39 to 16. John Ramirez led the Braves with 14 points. He and Rond Rempel both pulled down 13 rebounds in a tremendous defensive effort.

The Braves had only 9 personal fouls called against them which kept down the opponents scoring chances.

Then at 4:30 the Braves varsity team played Gladstone in the Azusa College gym. Steve Kokor was the big man with 23 points.

Steve hit 90% of his free throws and has now made 16 out of his last 17 attempts. Andy Arner was the second leading scorer with eleven and has now compiled 55 for the season.

With all this high scoring the Braves won handily 57 to 29. The twenty-nine points scored by the opponents was low for the year defensive wise for the Braves.

Fred Wilding played his usually fine game on defense stealing many Gladiator passes.

On Thursday night, Dec. 12, the Alta Loma faculty team defeated the varsity in overtime 41 to 39. With only eleven seconds remaining in the overtime period Gus Rischer put in a layup to win it for the faculty.

Both teams were cold in the first half but the faculty pulled ahead in the final quarter 30 to 22 with only four minutes left. This was due mainly to the stingy defense and sharp passes of the more experienced players.

Steve Kokor than began to get hot and hit consistantly until the game was tied 32 all. Andy Arner then put the varsity ahead for the first time with an outside jumper. The faculty then tied it up and they went into overtime.

After trading baskets Rischer put in the winning points to make the final score 41 to 39.

The varsity wrestling team lost a hard fought match to Bonita 29 to 23 on Friday the 13.

Points were compiled by Eugene Martinez who finished third in CIF last year, Carl Campbell in the 141 pound class and big Ervin Lamb who wrestles in the 165 pound class.

Tony Vicente played defense for two periods and only lead 2 to 1 going into the final two minutes. He then scraped for two more points and won the 148 pound class 4 to 1.

Bobby Gallardo pulled off a decision in the 15 pound class and Bob Lemay worked hard to draw with his opponent to round out the scoring for the Braves.

Mark Linden suffered a shoulder injury in the second period after he had an 8 to 0 lead and was forced to forfeit the match to his adversary.

Pioneer Wins Grape-Vine Pigskin Title

The Pioneer Junior High School 7th grade football team took top honors as the Grape-Vine Champions with a recent rousing win over Los Amigos Junior High 37-0.

The Pioneer 49ers were the only undefeated 7th grade team in the league although Cucamonga Junior High held them to a torrid 6-6 tie.

Pioneer Coach Bob Nolan said that the Cucamonga-Pioneer game was one of the cleanest and hardest fought games in years.

The Coach, using a single wing strong right and strong left offense, praised his boys for fine teamwork and sportsmanship.

Defensive end Don Papsdorf was voted outstanding defensive player while end Steve Cole was named outstanding offensive player. Mark Tayden was voted Most Valuable.

Final standings:

Pioneer	4-0-1
Upland	3-2-0
Los Amigos	3-2-0
Cucamonga	2-2-1

Farmers Corner

By Richard Johnsen, Jr.
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

We are again in the midst of the holiday season and busy people are rushing about buying gifts, having parties, sending cards and trying to impart the spirit of joy. To many of us the years seem to slip past too rapidly and the holidays are upon us before we have had a chance to accomplish the necessary daily tasks, let alone the good resolutions of a year ago.

Some people find they are still making payments on last year's holiday buying spree, but if one can judge from the shopping crowds, these people are willing to forget their debts as they enthusiastically buy again for the new holiday season.

The Christmas Season once short period of time, during which people somberly observed the religious significance of the birth of Christ. Customs developed, however, which called for more happy and gay celebrations such as those symbolized by the decorating of Christmas trees and the hanging by the fireplace of children's stockings to be filled with apples, oranges, candy and other trinkets, largely homemade or from the farm.

From a simple beginning has developed the hubbub of merchandising activity which currently dominates our holiday season. Communities vie for the dubious distinction of being first in the putting up of Christmas street decorations.

Stores and shopping centers enthusiastically display their merchandise with red and green backgrounds while Santa Claus lands by helicopter before we even have a chance to enjoy our Thanksgiving turkey. Selling seems to have taken the spotlight, almost blinding us to the real meaning of Christmas.

This is a time to be joyous, for we have seen another year pass by in which we as a nation and a world have prospered and made progress toward the goal of "Peace on earth, goodwill toward men."

The year has had its moments of joy and sadness, and as we reflect on them perhaps a few more people will view the manger scene rather than the glittering tinsel of commercialism as being symbolic of Christmas.

Whether we are on the farm on in the city, the simple story of the real meaning of Christmas can give us the faith and understanding which will assure a happy holiday season.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL AND BEST WISHES FOR A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

Smoke Signals

By Valerie Lee Prisel

There are just two more days of school until Christmas vacation, then we'll be listening to Jingle Bells instead of school bells until next year. How about that? I hope you've all been good little boys and girls for you know "what's-his-name" from the North Pole will soon be making his rounds.

The Braves at the Alta Loma reservation are getting quite excited. The teachers as well need the rest.

This has been quite a busy week for the students here, our varsity basketball game, which was played Tuesday afternoon at Gladstone, was a "bouncing" success. We ended the game with a winning score of 57-29.

Steve Kokor was outstanding in his play. John Ramirez takes the honors this week for the freshman basketball team. He scored 14 points, boosting the score to 39-16. This win plus the Bee team's win totals three for the Braves this week. Yea! for Alta Loma!!!

Thursday evening, we were treated to a special basketball game, in which the varsity played the faculty. This was a very fascinating game, although we suffered a loss, as the faculty made the winning basket.

The evening of basketball ended with a score of 41-39. Popcorn was sold during the game by the varsity football team. It was "yummy."

Our school play was a real hit! Both performances were exceptional. The drama department netted almost $250.

Attention girls!!!! Here is something you'll want to see! An all-school "sweater" is now on display in the Student Services office for your approval. It is a lovely white sweater with a royal blue stripe around the wrists, and for $15.95 you may proudly own one. A $5.00 deposit is necessary with your order.

Friday after school Alta Loma is scheduled to play Pomona High School's J.V. team in a highly competitive basketball game. There will be a small charge of 25 cents.

The same evening we will have our last dance of 1963 — A "Warrior Waltz." It is being sponsored by the football team. This dance will prove to be the "hop" of the year!

Music will be by the "Mysterians." A friend of ours, Dennis Hargraves, from Upland High is the band leader. This will be some stomp, so let's go!!

Dr. Klotz Visits Area on Business

Dr. Edwin F. Klotz, a Chaffey College Spanish professor who is on a year's leave of absence, has been in the West End recently on a business trip. He is accompanied by his wife.

Dr. Klotz was appointed to the State Department of Education by Superintendent of Instruction Dr. Max Rafferty and began work in Sacramento last August.

His position there is National Defense Education Act Administration Consultant to the Bureau of Junior Colleges. As such, he coordinates workshops in mathematics and the sciences and is carrying forward a state-wide survey of teacher needs and district costs in foreign language instruction, grades six through 14.

While in the area, Dr. Klotz will talk with County School Superintendent Roy C. Hill. He and his wife are taking the opportunity to visit with friends. They are staying with Mrs. Kenneth Brooks of Upland.

Indian Art To Hang In ALHS Classes

Alta Loma High School staff members, carrying on a tradition that began when Indians camped on the site of the school, have begun a collection of original paintings and water colors by Indian artists.

Since the discovery of ancient Indian artifacts on the campus, the students and faculty have had a deep interest in the legends and lore of the many Indian tribes of the west.

Gus Rischer, director of student activities, contacted the Woodard Museum of Indian Arts in Gallup, New Mexico, and explained that the new school was in need of some art for the walls. The museum shipped on approval a collection of oils and water colors by Navajo, Zuni, and Hopi artists.

The faculty members then made personal purchases of the art work to hang in their classrooms, offices and homes.

Among the Indian artists now represented at Alta Loma High School, the "home of the Braves," are Robert Chee, Harrison Begay, Beatain Yazz, and Bruce Temache.

Their paintings and water colors were commissioned by the museum for sale, and several of the artists — Begay and Yazz, in particular, create their work at the museum studio.

Telephone Calls Heavy At Christmas

"Telephone calling will be heavier than ever this Christmas," warns C. B. Miller, division manager for General Telephone Company.

"Don't wait until the last minute to place telephone calls to families and friends in other code areas," he advised.

"Each year General Christmas call rate increases sharply from the previous year, due to the influx of new people into Central and Southern California," the Company spokesman revealed.

The division manager offered customers three suggestions to avoid the disappointment and frustration of not being able to contact loved ones.

1. Plan your telephone holiday get-together for times other than Christmas Eve or Christmas Day.

2. Get the telephone number in advance. If the area code is different than yours, be sure and write down the area code number, too.

3. For faster service, dial long distance calls directly. Direct Distance Dialing is extremely simple to use. In the Ontario, Cucamonga, and Upland areas it involves dialing the three digits of the area code and the seven digits of the telephone number.

For example, to reach a number such as 555-2368 in another code area, you would dial 311-555-2368. The 311 represents the area you wish to reach.

When Ontario and Cucamonga and Upland customers dial telephone numbers in their own 714 code area, it is not necessary to dial the 714 area code, however. When using DDD, if the circuits are busy, wait a few minutes, then redial.

Peak Christmas traffic hours are expected to be from 6 p.m., Dec. 24, until 10 p.m., Dec. 25. Therefore, the best time for a call during the holiday period is before 6 p.m., Dec. 23 or on Dec. 26.

Miller also reminded customers of the time differential between California and other sections of the nation (up to three hours on the East Coast).

He added one more request "Please be patient with our operators. They will do everything in their power to give you the best service possible during this holiday rush period."

CORE Begins Picketing Of Realtors

The Pomona Valley Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality voted, upon advice and recommendation of its Housing Committee, to begin actions against the Pomona Valley Board of Realtors and its Directors.

According to Chairman John Greever, negotiations with the Board has evidenced a lack of desire to talk or negotiate further with CORE's negotiating team either immediately or at some future date.

Picketing will begin this weekend.

According to Wann Rawles, the Board of Realtors has refused to repudiate and withdraw its support of the proposed constitutional amendment to permit racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

The Board of Realtors has also refused to automatically suspend or expel any member found guilty of racial discrimination in a court of law.

C.O.R.E. is willing, at any time, to rescind its action when the Board of Realtors asks for future negotiations and acts in good faith, according to Frank L. Harrell, chairman of Community Relations.

Realtors Hold Christmas Installation

Realtors from throughout the area celebrated the holiday season Monday night at an installation of 1964 officers and Christmas program.

An overflow crowd of more than 230 attended the Upland-Ontario Board of Realtors' party at Red Hill Country Club.

Arrangements for the affair were handled by Grace Scott. Outgoing President Charles Bell presided.

New officers include Marine Riccardi as president, M. Rosalie Kamansky as vice-president, Kathleen E. McNabb as secretary-treasurer, and Marguerite Vincent as executive secretary.

Francis F. Jensen is an honorary state director for life.

Mr. Francis F. Jensen was presented a placque for his service to real estate by Charles H. Brown, immediate past president of the California Real Estate Association.

Mr. Bell reported that during his year the membership roster of the local Board increased by 52 members.

Outgoing officers were presented by George C. Hawkins, 1963 Regional Vice President. William P. Yeager, Sr., 1964 Regional Vice President, installed the new officers.

Giving the invocation was Fred W. Griesinger, former Real Estate Commissioner. Pearl Smith led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Entertainment included songs by Naomi Piastro, music for dancing by the Hy Tones, barbershop singing by the Aristo-chords. Master of ceremonies was William Finch who also led group singing.

1,000 View Santa Gifts

More than 1,000 persons attended the Open House of Santa Claus, Inc. Sunday afternoon, Dec. 15. The guests viewed the impressive array of the thousands of toy articles that had been made to appear new through countless volunteer hours by persons living in the West End area. This covers the cities of Upland, Ontario, Montclair, Cucamonga and Guasti.

Commencing Saturday, the mothers of children to receive remembrances from Santa Claus, Inc. will be brought into the distribution center, Grove Street School, 635 East Sunkist, Ontario, to select toys for their own children.

The giving from Santa Claus, Inc. remains anonymous for the children concerned, thus maintaining the true spirit of Santa and Christmas. At the distribution, none of the children may be present, thus maintaining "a surprise."

Each child receives one new article of clothing, several toys, one stocking of small toys, and one-half pound of candy. Large wheel toys go to families with several children where they are the most needed.

The Ontario Teachers Association will, as in previous years, assist with toy distribution this week. Names of the recipients of clothing and toys are furnished Santa Claus, Inc. by school nurses, Salvation Army, County Welfare and the Red Cross.

In addition to the gifts, 1000 pounds of Christmas candy has been sacked for distribution. The packaging was done by members of the Fire Belles, an organization comprised of the wives of Ontario Firemen.

Delicious refreshments were served at the Open House by the Assisteen Chapter, an Auxiliary group of the Assistance League of Upland comprised of teenagers.

Orange Show Hobby Display Entries Open

Unique and interesting gewgaws, gadgets and gimcracks, conceiving and constructed by the Southland hobbyists, are being recruited for display at the popular Hobby Show to be held in conjunction with the 19th annual National Orange Show in San Bernardino March 12-22.

Rated as one of the outstanding shows of its kind in Southern California, the greatly enlarged Hobby Show draws thousands of visitors to the National Orange Show grounds during the 11-day run of the citrus classic.

At one time during the 1963 exposition 2,000 persons were filing through the Orange Show Dome hourly to view the outstanding exhibits.

"What we are after," said William P. Howard, new Hobby Show committee chairman, "are exhibits which have never been shown at previous National Orange Shows and yet have as many different and varied hobbies as possible."

Hundreds of applications to exhibit have been mailed to hobbyists and hobby clubs in Southern California, Howard said. The displays which range from salt and pepper shaker collections to the most complicated electrical gadgets are divided into two classifications — handicraft or any hobby or craft of an odd, interesting and unique nature and collections of all descriptions.

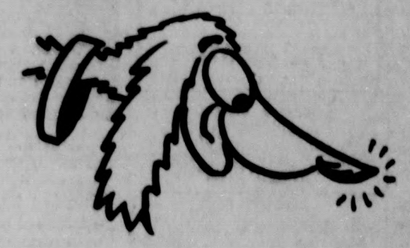

There is no entry fee in the Hobby Show. Deadline for applications to exhibit is January 30. Ribbons and trophies only are awarded and judging starts at noon on March 11.

NAACP vs CREA

Threat To Block Initiative Termed 'A Legal Gimmick'

Threats by the NAACP of a law suit to block the counting of signatures on petitions to qualify an initiative constitutional amendment restoring to home owners the right to sell, rent or lease their property as they choose, were termed "a legal gimmick."

Reginald F. Dupuy, one of the sponsors of the petition and legislative chairman for the California Real Estate Association, made the charge in a press statement and radio interview.

"This is a legal gimmick to attempt to slow the tremendous success the petition campaign is having," Dupuy said. "This can in no way interfere with the power of the people to circulate or sign the initiative petition to amend the constitution.

"Our attorneys have the complaint under study and will take any necessary legal action," Dupuy said. "Until the initiative petitions are qualified under legal requirements, as they will be, there is no cause of action to prevent the voters from exercising their powers."

Dupuy pointed out that new headquarters have been opened at 117 West Ninth Street, Los Angeles, and 420 Market Street, San Francisco.

"These offices, under the name of the Committee for Home Protection, now have 90,000 petitions in circulation, with more than 500 outlets throughout the state. Every time we have harrassment from Goveror Brown, Speaker Unruh and organizations such as the NAACP, the ensuing publicity results in a flood of mail from those requesting petitions.

"This will be one of the greatest petition drives in California history, using nothing but volunteer citizen petition circulators," Dupuy concluded.

Girl Scout Council Names Selections For Various Scouting Opportunities

The Girl Scout Council of East San Gabriel Valley recently completed its selection of Senior Girl Scouts for national, international, regional and local scouting opportunities offered to qualified members for 1964.

The girls selected by the Council to compete for Regional appointments to the 1964 events come from several of the communities within the Council, including Chino, Claremont, La Verne, Upland, Ontario, Baldwin Park, West Covina, Covina, Cucamonga and Montclair.

Beginning in late September, a series of five tests on skills was held for all Girl Scouts selected by troop leaders desiring to compete and names of girls selected have been turned into the Regional office, along with their applications. Each girl will be interviewed by an appointed Regional interviewer before final selections are made in Region XII.

The region is comprised of five states, California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, and Hawaii.

Following is a list of girls chosen from the local Council for regional selection in particular events:

Experiment in International Living — an international event in Latin America for a 6 to 8 week period for 12 Senior Scouts, one from each region. Girls must have completed at least two years of high school Spanish with emphasis on conversational abilities to count the most.

Council applicants are Diane Lynn Weiland, West Covina, and Robin Webb, Claremont, alternate.

All - States Encampments —a national event of five camps for which any council may submit five applicants. These camps are open to Senior Scouts who have had no previous National or International opportunities, who are 16 years old but not yet out of high school, who know the patrol system and camping skills.

Applicants must express interest in promoting a project beneficial to their council's camping program and be willing to carry on for two years toward advancing that project. They must be healthy have required immunizations and be approved by their council for participation in the event.

Selected were: Julie De Gracie, La Verne, for Maryland encampment; Christine Hahn, Baldwin Park, for Michigan encampment; Theresa Strouse, West Covina, for Tennessee encampment; Catherine Vicenti, La Verne, for California encampment, and Diane Puntenney, Claremont, for Washington encampment.

Selected for the Senior Conference, a National event, was Karen Williams, Covina. This is a campus conference at Cazenovia College, Cazenovia, New York.

A new International opportunity is the Canadian Heritage Camps for Cadette Girl Scouts only. The Girl Guides of Canada have invited 24 girls from the USA to attend their Heritage Provincial Camps in July. This opportunity is limited to Cadette Girl Scout troop members born in 1949. This Council's applicant is Melinda Hodell, 1388 N. Euclid Ave., Upland.

Applicants selected for a local event, the Brotherhood Camp, are Margaret Olds, Chino; Emily Brandrup, West Covina, and Nancy Hall, Covina.

For the Senior Conference in San Diego held in November, four from the local council attended. They were Ann Griffiths, Sharon Aiken, Martha Mahoney, and Joan Fleming, all of Covina.

The Council has selected the following girls to attend the Senior Conference, De Anza Council, Riverside in March: Linda Lawrence, West Covina; Joanne Smith, Ontario, and Melanie Aylor, 7507 Cerrito Rojo, Cucamonga.

Future local conferences are anticipated for the following girls: Terri Lynn Smith, 5379 Granada St., Montclair; Barbara Townsen , La Verne; Carol Stewart, Ontario; Barbara Lovgren, 8053 Hellman, Cucamonga; Kathy Waters, Chino; Carol Armstrong, Covina; Susan Jane Else, Claremont; Christine Kowalski, 7373 Via Paraiso, Cucamonga; Cynthia Holder, Claremont, and Barbara Brandstrom, Claremont.

Holiday Driving More Dangerous?

"Given the handicaps so common to driving during this busy month of December, it certainly can be," Capt. C. L. Johnson, Jr., commander of the California Highway Patrol's Pomona Area, said.

"First, most drivers are in a constant hurry. They've got too many things to take care of — shopping trips, school events, added social engagements, etc. Second, they drive at night more than usual, going to parties and other holiday activities.

"Third, and most lethal, more drivers are likely to have had a few drinks before they get behind the wheel. I hardly need to dwell on the destruction which the drinking driver causes. Last year for instance, he was involved in one-third of all fatal accidents.

"You have heard time and again that driving after drinking can be one of the gravest mistakes a driver commits. We think it is so hazardous that to us the drinking driver is Public Enemy No. 1.

"He is the person we will be particularly on guard against throughout the holiday period. He can expect swift and decisive action when he is encountered by a Patrol officer. Every drinking driver taken off the road is a potential accident eliminated.

"You can help in two ways. First, if you see Public Enemy No. 1, let the Patrol or your local police department know. Second, don't cast yourself in this role of Public Enemy No. 1. It will save you embarrassment — and possibly your life."

LA Businessmen To Visit County

(CNS) — A delegation of from 80 to 120 Los Angeles business executives are to make a two-day tour of San Bernardino County, Arthur Groos, of the Board of Trade, told the Board of Supervisors at the Monday session.

Groos said the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the visit. The group is to arrive at Ontario International Airport early on Jan. 7, Groos said.

Supervisors were invited to lunch with the visitors. The group will spend the night in Palm Springs, but will come back to San Bernardino again the following day.

Groos said the San Bernardino and Riverside boards of trade are cooperating with the Los Angeles chamber on arranging for sites for factories and other things to be seen.

Secret Meet Of Planners Nets Nothing

(CNS) — The recent secret meeting of members of the County Planning Comission to thrash out the reasons for dissension among them did not accomplish much, it was indicated after the commission's session Thursday, Dec. 12.

Commissioners discussed the results of the secret session privately with reporters, but they agreed that nothing much resulted.

"It was a childish, stupid thing," said one. "Noth ng ha changed."

Members said they agreed not to discuss their meeting with reporters, but they could not resist admitting that the session had been without results, except for a couple of commissioners to get some bad feelings off their chests.

"Soandso said he was going to take me on," said one commissioner, "but somebody else took him on, and he forgot about me."

But Thursday's hearings went about as usual, with no improvement in procedure discernible. The basis for the complaints among members was that some commissioners interrupted the proceedings and failed to follow the regular parliamentary regulations.

Pressures Build for Action on Alta Loma Area Zone Changes

(CNS) — A public hearing on proposed changes in the master zone plan for the Chaffey area is slated for Jan. 9 at the chambers of the County Planning Comission.

On Thursday, Dec. 12, commissioners set the date for the hearing, due to pressure building up on them for action on zone change requests in the area. They decided it would be better for them to have the hearing in San Bernardino, rather than holding it in the Chaffey area.

"Some commissioners," Neil Pfulb, county planning director, said, "come a long way to get to a meeting here."

The action by the commission followed zone change requests from two Alta Loma area property owners and commissioners said they could expect more petitions as time goes on.

The requests coming from the area are for relaxation of restrictions on commercial zoning and on the low density population provided in the existing master plan.

Just a few weeks earlier, the commission put off until Feb. 13 a request from State Senator Eugene G. Nisbet and Keith Koehler for a change of zone to allow development of 80 acres on the north side of Orange Street, between Carnelian and Sapphire Streets with single family dwellings.

The request brought protests from owners of adjacent property. They said they oppose any residential development with lots at the county minimum of 7,200 square feet.

The Jan. 9 hearing is expected to bring protests against efforts to increase the amount of land zoned for business and to reduce lot sized from the acre new required through much of the area.

COMPROMISE

A compromise between the county and an Alta Loma area developer over plans for apartments and a shopping center on about eight acres was reached Thursday, Dec. 12.

George Rapport, representing Alta Loma Development Co. and Halecrest Development Corp., persuaded the comission to aprove a change of zone to allow apartments on the property.

He had asked for zoning for apartments for part of the land, located on the north side of Lemon Street, west of Haven Avenue, and zoning for business for the rest.

Neil Pfulb, county planning director, said the area is now zoned for single family dwellings, but that in the Chaffey area master plan it is designated for high density residential use.

Pfulb added that Rapport should have some evidence to present showing that the area is going to grow sufficiently to support his proposed shopping center.

Rapport poiated out that he has a residential development in the area, that other houses are being built and that more are planned.

The developer added that he has been waiting for three years for the county to do something about the zoning on his property. "I can see this going on ad infinitum," he said.

The compromise reached was that Rapport would agree to apartment house zoning for all his land, but that he would present a plan for developing only a part of it for multiple dwellings.

"I'll leave an area undeveloped that I want to use for business," Rapport said, "in the hope later you'll rezone this for commercial use. If you don't, I'll go ahead with multiple dwellings on it, too, at a later date."

The change of zone was then approved, with the recommendation to be passed on to the Board Supervisors when a plot plan is filed.

PLANS

An Alta Loma property owner was told Thursday by the County Planning Commission that plans he has for a shopping center will have to wait the outcome of a Jan. 9 public hearing on the Chaffey area master zone plan.

Warren C. Lefebvre, operations manager for Rinker Development Corp., appeared befor the commission to argue in support of his company's request for a zone change for about seven acres at the southeast corner of the intersection of 19th and Carnelian.

The zoning sought was C-2, which allows intensive commercial development. The land is now zoned for single family homes.

Neil Pfulb, county planning director, said that requests for zone changes should be accompanied by some justification. He said the applicant should back up his request with proof that there will be enough people living in the area to support a business center.

Lefebvre said his company owns another 35 acres in the area that is being developed for homes. He added that unless they get business zoning for the land under consideration, other owners can come in and ask for the same zoning, when the area has more residents.

"The planning commission would be accused of favoritism," Pfulb said, "if we granted a change of zone and

AN EDITORIAL

Our New Postmaster

Upland has a new Postmaster, the 12th to serve in that position in the 76 year history of the Upland Post Office.

John W. James has received the nod for the post in which he has been serving as "acting" since the retirement of Roy A. Ray in October of last year.

Our congratulations to Mr. James who is a 33 year veteran with the U.S. postal service.

This position in a growing city like Upland is a big one and full of headaches. Adding to the usual tasks of keeping the mail moving, he faces new subdivisions with a tremendous influx of people.

And this usually gay holiday season is anything but gay for a Postmaster and his staff.

This is a service taken for granted. We drop a letter in a corner blue and red box and then wait for an answer. Our reliance on the postal service is given little thought.

Mr. James has held the lead for the Upland Post Office for more than a year . . . . now it's official.

His ability to handle the position has been established. He and his staff are doing and will continue to do an excellent job.

Status Symbols and a Bargain?

Whenever county supervisors or other county employees have to get somewhere, we'll expect them to arrive on time.

Seems as if they should be able to arrive promptly in the future than in the past. They'll have faster cars to drive around the county to conduct county business.

The supervisors authorized purchase of 84 cars for county personnel last week, and most of the cars were ordered with a special "police package" for only $40 per car.

Could be the supervisors just hate to pass up a bargain. Purchased separately, the heavy duty equipment (including a more powerful engine) would cost about $200 per car.

That's a real bargain. Like saving $10 because a $40 cloth coat with mink collar already attached can be had for $99, while separate purchases would add up to $109. Those supervisors know a bargain when they see it.

Included in the "police package" on each of the new cars is a 250-horsepower engine, while the standard cars have to loaf along with only 195 horsepower.

Since not all of the cars will be equipped with the "police package," maybe that will serve as a new status symbol in county work.

When a man or woman isn't doing enough to please the supervisors or department head, all they will have to do to deliver a most stinging rebuke is take the employee's hot rod away from him and assign him a "standard" car with 195 horsepower engine. Such a blow. That'll keep them on the ball.

And while we're on the subject, another thought pops up. Maybe the supervisors need faster cars — to elude irate taxpayers who object to paying extra for the county's hotrods that will burn more gas.

Special 1963 Audit Report Reveals Few Irregularities

FUNCTION:

The Assessor's Office prepares the annual assessment roll showing an equalized assessed valuation on all non-exempt real and personal property situated within the County, with the exceptions of utility properties which are assessed by the Division of Assessment Standards of the State Board of Equalization.

This office performs the following:

1. Records all taxable real and personal property within the County.
2. Appraises all taxable property at a fair market value.
3. Compiles the Assessment Roll.
4. Maintains maps showing location of property, ownership and record of assessed valuation, a record of property transfers and a record of all forms of exemptions granted.

AUDIT PROCEDURES:

1. Certain maps were selected and parcels therein were traced to the final tax rolls.
2. The rolls were proved for mathematical accuracy by tracing to auditors' controls.
3. Individual items were tested for clerical accuracy.
4. A test of exempt charitable and governmental properties was made to supporting data.
5. Change orders for proper authorization were tested and traced to final roll and auditors' controls.
6. Disbursements of this department were verified in connection with our examination of the County Auditors' Office.

COMMENTS:

The Assessor's Office has no cash receipts. We reviewed the procedures employed by the Assessor's Office in compiling the assessment roll and made tests thereof but no determination was made of the propriety of the individual assessed valuations used in connection with the roll. Our request to examine business property statements and Veteran exemption claims was denied. A legal opinion was requested from the County Counsel during our June 30, 1962 audit which stated the Revenue and Taxation Code as follows:

"All information . . . furnished in the property statement shall be held secret by the Assessor. The statement is not a public document and is not open to public inspection."

The records were found to be in good order.

AUDITOR CONTROLLER

FUNCTION:

The County Auditor is the chief accounting officer for all segments of County government. The Auditors' office is a clearing house for all financial transactions and it is the Auditors' responsibility to determine that the transactions are proper and made in accordance with State laws and regulations, and the resolutions and other official actions of the Board of Supervisors. Controlling fund accounts are maintained in this office which constitute the basis for preparation of such reports showing the financial condition or financial transactions of the County as may be required by law.

The County Auditors' office is divided into eight divisions: audit, bond, bookkeeping, payroll, statistical, systems, tax and warrant.

The audit division is responsible for making audits of all of the departments of the County, courts and marshals, and those special districts not audited by independent firms. The County Charter requires these audits although there are also State requirements in regard to audits of special districts. This division conducted approximately 235 audits in the last fiscal year.

The bond division is responsible for the processing for payment of all bonds and coupons and the maintenance of records pertaining to outstanding bond issues. They are also complete reports for the establishing of ratings for bonds sold in the County.

The bookkeeping division maintains the controlling set of books for County government and governmental agencies. All receipts, disbursements, and budgetary controls are recorded in this department and each month the ledgers are proved with the ledgers in the office of the County Treasurer.

The payroll division is responsible for the processing, payment, and maintenance of records of all salaries of all employees of the County and special districts.

The statistical division compiles the County budget and sets the tax rates to cover the budget including bond redemption programs. All apportionments of tax monies are made by the division. This division issues the deposit permits authorizing the County Treasurer to receive funds for deposit. Reports are prepared through which information is available to governing bodies, state and other officials, and to the public, on taxes and financial operations of the County. In accordance with legal requirements financial reports are filed with the State Controller and the State Board of Equalization.

The systems division devises new systems, forms, and procedures for all departments in the County. This is a new division and is still in the organizational stage.

The tax division is responsible for the compiling of all assessed valuations to be used in applying the tax levies. This division checks, proves, and balances all delinquent penalties.

The warrant division checks and processes all claims submitted for payment by the County and all special districts. Claims may be classified generally as being welfare, school, county, salary, or special district. This division operates jointly with the Superintendent of Schools Office and the Welfare Department in processing school and welfare claims.

AUDIT PROCEDURES:

1. Reviewed the system of internal control and the accounting methods and procedures pertaining to the receipt, control, and disbursement of monies belonging to the County.
2. Prepared a statement of fund transactions and balances showing all changes in the various funds during the year ended June 30, 1963, verified the outstanding warrants at the end of the year and reconciled the fund balances at June 30, 1963 with the fund accounts of the County Treasurer's office.
3. Reconciled, on a test basis, the cash receipts of all County departments with the County Auditors' records.
4. Examined warrants issued on a test basis, covering County expenditures including inspection of the related audited vouchers and supporting documents for departmental approvals, authorizations, budgetary distribution and and proper documentation and execution.
5. Prepared a statement of the bonded indebtedness of the County showing each bond issued.
6. Compared the details of outstanding bonds with the bond registers and verified bond and interest payments by inspection of cancelled bonds and coupons on a test basis.
7. Reviewed and tested the tax apportionments to the various funds.
8. Reviewed the audit manual the auditing procedures, and audit reports of the internal audit staff.
9. Tested deposit receipts issued authorizing Treasurer to receive funds, accounted for controlling numbers and reconciled receipts recorded.
10. Tested budgetary controls by tracing appropriations from the original budget and changes authorized by the Board of Supervisors to the appropriations ledger.
1. Reviewed the procedures and records maintained in issuing and effecting accountability of prenumbered receipts issued to the various departments in the County.

COMMENTS:

During the past year the role of the internal audit staff has had many changes. It was determined that it was impractical, if not impossible, to accomplish three audits per year in accordance with the Charter. The present schedule will accomplish two interim audits and a year end audit which will culminate in a single annual audit of each department in the areas of internal control, assets, accounts receivables, purchases, inventories, and payroll. Also, work is to be accomplished on a test check basis in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. We feel that these new procedures will greatly improve the system of internal control over cash receipts and the working relationship between the department heads and the internal audit staff. To further improve the vital roll of the internal audit staff we recommend that they be given complete support and cooperation by all departments and especially by the Administrative Office where follow up of audit recommendations should become a standard procedure. It is recommended that the internal audit staff audit any contracts that the County has with individuals which call for a rental based upon receipts such as the airport fixed based operators.

After the aborted payroll distribution, the internal audit staff reviewed that payroll with the subsequent payroll and investigated all differences. The investigation did not disclose any irregularities. Also the internal audit staff made personal payroll distributions in various areas which did not disclose any irregularities. We recommend that the personal payroll distribu-

Fire Chief Warns Of Yule Fire Peril

An unnecessary fire could turn a gay holiday season into a tragic mourning season, Fire Chief Lloyd Gilmore warned this week as he advised using caution and common sense in decorating for Christmas.

Chief Gilmore said carelessness with lights, trees and other Christmas decorations could easily start a fatal fire. He listed these suggestions for a safe, happy Christmas:—

—When picking out a tree, choose a fresh one, one that the needles won't shake or fall off easily. Saw off the butt at an angle, an inch or more above the original cut, and stand the tree in water from the time it is purchased until it is disposed of.

—Set the tree away from radiators, or fireplaces, and never let it block an exit that might be an escape route in case of fire.

—If an artificial plastic tree is used, be sure it is marked as made of slow-burning materials. If it has built-in lighting, be sure it carries the Underwriters Laboratories label.

—Metal trees will conduct electricity, so use only indirect lighting, floods, spots or color wheels, not lights strung on the tree.

—Decorative lighting should be used with caution. Check over strings of lights before use for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. For outdoor lighting, use only sets of lights listed for outdoor use by the Underwriters Laboratories.

—Never use wax candles on or near a Christmas tree. Turn off tree lights before retiring or leaving home, even for a short time.

—Never leave small children at home alone, even for a few minutes.

—Use noncombustible decorating materials or those that are "flame-proofed."

—Be careful about smoking near a tree.

—Plan in advance the escape measures and exit routes needed for the safety of your family in case of fire.

—Remember, or keep handy the telephone number of the Upland Fire Department — YU 2-1300.

—If you erect a tree in a public building, school or church, where there will be gatherings of people, it must be "flameproofed," which is required by the state fire marshal's regulations.

Be careful, and have a Merry Christmas, the fire chief said.

Correction

From the "Our-Faces-Have-Turned-Scarlet" Department comes this necessity of correcting a portion of last week's editorial on the Euclid Ave. Parkway.

One section was such a jumbled mess, that we are compelled to reprint three paragraphs CORRECTLY (we hope), so that everyone may grasp the thought.

Here follows the corrected version:

"The Euclid Parkway is bound to be a major issue in the April, 1964, city election when the terms of Councilmen Kistinger and Marriott expire.

"Probably the current spotlight should be put on P & R Committeeman Richard Holdaway, who originally represented a citizens' group to preserve Euclid Parkway. As president, he asked the City Council for a place on the ballot for an ordinance on the Parkway's future.

"Holdaway not only has switched his thinking from preserving the historic beauty of Euclid Parkway to the new jazzed-up program, but we hear from many sources he may now have a "stepping stone" to the City Council in the April election."

When Was Christ Born:

Christmas Date Remains Mystery

Imagine celebrating Christmas in August!

Christmas might well have been in that month, for many scholars estimate that the true date of Christ's birth falls late in August or in early September.

The exact month, day and even the year of Christ's birth has been disputed for centuries. It will probably never be known because the Bible offers few clues, ancient manuscripts differ, and calendars have been changed too often.

The setting of the Day as December 25 was not even made until 354 A.D. The date was decided by the Church then under Pope Junius I.

Why Dec. 25?

It is not known for sure why December 25th was chosen as the day, but it is thought that Christian leaders hoped that by celebrating christmas about the same time as the Roman holiday, Saturnalia, and the European Winter Solstice, the impact of the pagans' festival would be lessened.

Also, a very early Christian tradition, recorded by St. Chrysostom and other writers, held that Christ's Birthday was December 25.

And, December was the time of many winter festivities in all civilized lands.

Even now not everyone celebrates Christmas on the same day. At one time and another, the festivities have been held in January, March, April, May, October and November. And almost every month has been "proven" by some scholar to be the month of the great event.

Today, many people celebrate His Birth on December 6 and January 6. And other days in December and January are "Christmas" in some places.

But no matter when Christmas is celebrated, it is always, everywhere, a time of rejoicing and feasting in honor of that happiest of all days.

Mrs. Freda A. Sittman from New York; the Richard F. Walz family from Arizona; and Mrs. Phyllis Ramsey and her two children from Fontana are all welcome new residents.

From Fontana came newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Ludolph and their baby; and from Glendora came new neighbors Mr. and Mrs. W. Ray Hyatt and their four children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry R. McGinnis and their four children came to our area from Riverside; and Mr. and Mrs. Randolph L. Waters and their three children moved to our community recently from Barstow.

Our welcome to new neighbors Mrs. Phyllis Holau and her child from Claremont; also to the Clyde H. Williams family from Covina; and to Mr. and Mrs. George R. Cerruto from San Bernardino.

Make the holidays a brighter one by calling your Hospitality Hostess, Mrs. Lois Butler, at YU 6-7080 and telling her about the newcomers in your neighborhood. She will call on them and bring them a cheery welcome, gifts from our merchants, and information about their new home town.

Local Business

Some Merchants Free-Load On Advertising of Others

Some merchants free-load on the advertising of more progressive retailers.

The shop which operates in the shadow of an alert advertiser is sure to get some overflow trade from the business which draws the consumer to a particular section of town.

Collectively, all of the business places in a trade center benefit from the efforts of retailers who advertise regularly.

The overall effort of merchants who use advertising maintains and builds a trade center. Rural people who adopt a particular town as a shopping place base their choice on what they read in the community newspaper.

Suburban shopping centers are created by aggressive advertising. They flourish because most stores consistently print item advertising which is competitive with advertising published in metropolitan centers.

Of course, in country areas and in suburban centers, some merchants do not contribute to the investment which brings consumers to their stores. They may exist for years because of the advertising of their neighbors. Probably, they could do better if they attempted to sell directly, rather than leaving their fate to casual wanderers in the shopping center.

However, the merchant who says he does not use advertising is mistaken. When he does nothing to stimulate business in his town, he is simply surviving on the advertising of other merchants.

He uses advertising which others pay for, because it failed to make a profit, all the people who work there lose their jobs.

Job security depends upon profits.

Try Your Arithmetic

How are you with arithmetic?

Try it on this:

"If a merchant buys a bedroom suite from a wholesaler for $200, and three months later sells it for $295, how much profit did he make?

Simple arithmetic would indicate a $95 profit.

But that's incorrect.

Out of that $95, the merchant had to pay freight, storage charges, delivery to his customer's house, rent insurance, interest, postage, electricity, gas, taxes, advertising.

He had to pay salaries and wages to his employees, several kinds of insurance for them, paid vacations, pensions, and many other costs of running his business.

Matter of fact, maybe he didn't make a profit at all.

There even might have been a loss, because all costs of operating a business must be met before there is any profit.

Unless a profit can be realized, a company and all the benefits which people get from being employed there are soon gone.

When a company folds up and has to go out of business

HOME SAVINGS and Loan Association unveiled its new six-story, $2½ million Pomona branch on December 12. The new building is located at 100 Pomona Mall West, focal point of the city's new pedestrian mall.

Home Savings and Loan Opens New Branch Dec. 12

Home Savings and Loan Association officially opened their new six-story, $2½ million Pomona Branch Thursday, Dec. 12, announced Harold B. Pomeroy, vice president and Pomona branch manager.

The structure, focal point of the city's urban renewal-Mall project, is bordered by the Mall, and Third St. and Garey and Thomas Ave. Official address is 100 Pomona Mall West.

The building was designed by noted artist-designer Millard Sheets, in association with the architectural firm of Langdon & Wilson. It fronts 100 feet on Garey, 100 feet on the Mall and contains more than 84,000 square feet, including a basement.

Departing from the front-rear concept, the new Home Savings building appears the same on all four sides. The street level is faced with glass while Roman travertine, marble in its early stages, rims the building at the balcony and second floor levels. The upper section is of textured concrete, broken by vertical grille facades.

Both interior and exterior has the Sheets signature of murals backed by inlaid mosaics into the travertine wall. Within the Home Savings branch, Sheets has created a huge mural behind the service counter, depicting the early days of the Pomona Valley.

In the early planning stages of the Pomona Mall project, city officials approached Howard Ahmanson, board chairman of Home Savings for support because of the company's ability to successfully underwrite a huge development and its real interest in the betterment of the community. Ahmanson's promise to cooperate was the "go-head" signal for the city.

"The planning and development of this block could well serve as an example for every urban redevelopment project in the country," Ahmanson said.

The Pomona building is part of Home's $10 million new construction program which will see the rise of new structures to house eight of the association's offices in Southern California. Home Savings, with assets in excess of $1½ billion, is the nation's largest savings association.

SC Gas Pays $2 Million Property Tax

Payments of more than $2 million were made in this area by Southern Counties Gas Co. this week as first installment on the utility's 1963-64 property taxes.

Southern Counties' local manager, Hugh Abbott, reported today that his firm paid $1,606,300 to Los Angeles and its cities, $263,300 to San Bernardino County, and $152,200 to Riverside County and its communities, as part of the first tax installments.

In April, when second installments will be paid, the gas company's taxes for this year will total approximately $3.2 million for Los Angeles County and its cities, more than $500,000 to San Bernardino County, and $300,000 to Riverside County and its communities. By operating arrangements, the counties accept tax payments on behalf of most of their cities.

Taxes paid for the entire year by privately owned utility would underwrite the cost of nearly 250 fully equipped elementary school classrooms in Los Angeles County, nearly 40 classrooms in San Bernardino County, and approximately 23 classrooms in Riverside County, Abbott said.

Payments to Los Angeles County was up nearly $47,000 from the amount paid last year as first installment by Southern Counties. Payment to San Bernardino County was up about $5,200 over last year's first installment. The payment to Riverside County was down slightly for last year's, primarily due to changes in assessment practices.

Throughout its system, Southern Counties paid $3,634 million to 10 counties and their communities as its first installment taxes. The firm's total property taxes for 1963-64 will be $7.177 million, highest in its 52-year company history.

Honors Spark Chaffey Sport Award Dinner

An amusing speech and an array of honors highlighted the recent annual Fall Sports Awards Banquet at Chaffey College.

Guest speaker Les Richter, retired Los Angeles Rams football star, kept his audience on the verge of helplessness with his accounts of some notable Ram games.

Preceding Lee to the rostrum was a long file of football, water polo, and cross country luminaries who were honored for their efforts in the season just ended.

With Les Richter highlighing the evening's activities as featured speaker, performers on the Panther football, water polo, and cross country teams during the past campaign were rewarded for their efforts Monday night at the annual Fall Sports Award Banquet.

At the top of the list of gridders receiving honors was guard George Corneal, who nabbed the "Most Valuable Player" award as well as "Captains' trophy."

Other players on Coach Bill Gable's squad capturing awards were tackle Jerry Conroy, "Lineman of the Year;" halfback Ray Burt, "President's Award" for the outstanding backfield performer; and quarterback John Hall, "Captains' trophy."

Conroy, Burt, Corneal, and center Mike Christensen claimed certificates for gaining positions on all-Eastern Conference teams.

Burt, Conroy, Christensen, Corneal, end Frank Hostetler, cornerback Bill Hickam, quarterback Jim Wilcox, and end Dennis Yannone were presented jackets for being named "Hardrocks," an award to the outstanding player of each game.

Garnering the awards passed out to Coach Howard Theurer's water poloists were: Fred Russell, "Most Valuable Player" and "Co-captain;" Gary Gundlach, "Most Improved Player;" and Dick Plasman, "Co-captain."

Rounding out the recipients of awards was Fred Jackson, "Captain" of Coach John Burnison's cross-country squad.

So. Cal. Business Action Brisk in Early November

Business activity in Southern California continued its record-breaking pace during the early weeks of November, Security First National Bank's research department reported.

According to the bank's researchers, it is too early to assess the effects on the local economy stirred by the tragic event of Nov. 22.

However, if the brisk pace of business continued substantially unchanged from the course of the first three weeks, then November's economic activity will have established another new high, the bank pointed out.

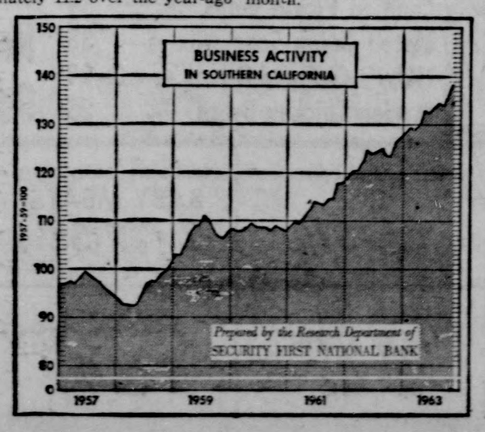

As of Nov. 22, Security's business index was reported at 138.2 (preliminary), approximately 11.2 over the year-ago period and 1.5 over the October reading.

Department store cales and construction activity were the principal sources of strength in the local economy, with both exceeding previous highs.

Real estate transfers also advanced, while bank clearings were slightly below the October level.

Employment in the Southland's metropolitan areas remained at a record level. October, the latest month available, was the eighth straight month to register a gain in seasonally adjusted total civilian employment.

Unemployment averaged 6.1 per cent of the labor force in October. This represented a decline from the previous month.

TESTIMONIAL

The MONTCLAIR DRIVE-IN DAIRY celebrated its 3rd anniversary on December 13 & 14, 1963. Mr. Jerry Van Andel, owner of the dairy, decided to test the advertising "pulling power" of the Montclair Tribune by using it exclusively to promote this birthday sale. Using no other means of advertising, this picture taken during the sale reflects the TREMENDOUS RESULTS achieved entirely from a two page ad in the MONTCLAIR TRIBUNE.

To substantiate this outstandingly successful local promotion through advertising in the Montclair Tribune, Mr. Van Andel, gave us the following testimonial:

"I believe conclusively that the people of Montclair look forward to reading the first hand local news of their community in the Montclair Tribune. I am now firmly convinced, and thoroughly satisfied, that this local advertising is highly profitable."

Sincerely yours,

Jerry Van Andel

ATWOOD'S of Upland, a completely new department store in the heart of the Upland Shopping Center, was recently presented with Southern California Edison Company's "Award for Electrical Excellence."

Gal Shores, Edison's Upland local manager, (right) made the presentation to John Atwood, president, (left) and Edward Atwood, vice president.

Atwood's is the first commercial building in Upland to receive Edison's honor for design of all-electric lighting, heating, power and air conditioning, Shores said. The award was established by the electric company to recognize built-in electrical quality in commercial buildings - just as the Medallion Home Award is the electric industry's honor in residential construction, he pointed out. Located at 215 N. Second Ave., Atwood's of Upland is now celebrating it's Golden Anniversary. During the past 50 years, Atwood's has demonstrated a pattern of steady growth and progress, Shores said.

The latest extensive remodeling project contributes to the growth and development of the Upland Shopping Center as it fast becomes one of the outstanding shopping areas in Southern California, he added.

The plan for a guaranteed minimum monthly income for retired people has been introduced by Congressman James Roosevelt (D-Calif.), H.R. 8826, sponsored by the League, provides for a minimum income for those 62 and over comparable to the prevailing Federal minimum of $199 per month.

Alta Loma Zone Changes

let one owner sit on it for two or three years. We'd be saying in effect this is all the commercial zoning we're going to grant."

Commission Chairman J. W. Littleton said he favored helping "somebody willing to start to work."

"I'd like to look this over," said Commissioner Will C. Collett. "I hate to delay this, but I feel that we don't have enough information to go on."

The commission decided to continue its hearing on the commercial zoning asked by the Rinker Company to Jan. 23, so that it would have time to digest the views of local residents on a change in the master plan.

Christmas Workshop for Teachers

Always in search of new ideas, teachers of the West End Schools visited Cucamonga Central School recently to learn new ways of making Christmas decorations.

Wayne Dean, art consultant for the San Bernardino County School Superintendent, was in charge of this educational project.

Decorated candles, tree ornaments, gift ideas, Christmas trees, puppets, mobiles and artistic wrappings were displayed. Procedures were explained by Mr. Dean and the teachers left with a wealth of new ideas to take back to the classrooms.

This annual workshop is a feature of the in-service training program for teachers in the school districts of Alta Loma, Etiwanda, Cucamonga, Cuamonga Central, Guasti, Mt. Baldy and Mountain View.

Mail Carriers Retirement Center Open

Stanley Dimmitt, President of the Upland Branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers, announced that on behalf of his letter carrier membership, retirees of the West End area have been invited to join the letter carriers at their new Florida retirement community, "Nalcrest."

According to Mr. Dimmitt, "Nalcrest" was originally constructed as a retirement haven for letter carriers. However, realizing that others would enjoy this type of living, the letter carriers enlarged the scope of their projects to accommodate retirees from this community.

"Nalcrest" is a $4½ million self contained community in central Florida with its own shopping center, Post Office, 500 seat auditorium, marina, swimming pool with cabanas and all the other services necessary for modern living.

In addition the community has thirteen hundred feet of private lake frontage and facilities for some of the best hunting and fishing to be found anywhere in the United States.

Encompassing 150 acres and containing 500 apartment units, Nalcrest is designed especially to suit the needs of Senior Citizens.

Mr. Dimmitt has requested that those interested in taking advantage of the local letter carriers invitation can contact him at YUkon 4-5560 or write to Stanley Dimmitt, 722 West "F" Street, Ontario.

Huge Mural Brings Paris To Dance

A gigantic mural covering one wall of the Alta Loma High School cafeteria was the focal point of the first Christmas Formal dance held last week.

Clark Heiple, ALHS art department chairman, helped a committee of students sketch and paint the mural that portrayed the Eiffel tower and other typically French scenes. White carts containing flowers were set in the corners, and a fountain was placed in the center of the room.

Two French cafes were set up, and Christmas lights blinked in the ivy trellis. Outside, the swimming pools were lined with luminarias and candles floated on the pools.

Responsible for the effective decorations for the first big dance at Alta Loma High School were Peggy Haigh, social chairman, and Susan Chojnacki, Dennis Michael, Mary Ann Michael, Rick Espinoza, Bonnie Buel, Dean Bentley, David Searle, Diane Lanter, Thad Mathis, Albert Holland, John Morris, Kathryn Whittaker, Steve Beckley, Naomi Makabe, Truman Makabe, Larry Heacock, Paula Sorenson, and David Bentley.

Elect Upland College Chairman

Sam Yocum, owner of Sam Yocum's, Inc., manufacturers of banking and office equipment, San Gabriel, and residing in Alhambra, was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of Upland College, at the college annual Fall Board meeting.

Yocum is an alumnus of Alhambra High School, University of Southern California and Whittier College and has shown a dedicated interest in independent liberal arts education.

He is on the Board of Advisors for Whittier College and Chairman of the Parents Committee for the Brown Military Academy. He and his family are affiliated with the Friends Church.

Upland College is a small accredited liberal arts college dedicated to producing a well-educated American citizen.

— SERVING UPLAND AREA FOR 33 YEARS —

FILE 13

By Walt Orvis

I think Christmas is coming.

It's cold these nights and early mornings. There are a lot of people spending it like they've got it, only they haven't. Mobs of people have been seen in the stores buying all kinds of things.

My four year old has somehow come up with the same theory that I have — that Chrstmas is not far away. All he wants for Christmas is one of each.

I hope he won't be disappointed. He won't get one of each. Just for kicks I'd like to add up the cost of one of each that he sees advertised on the kid shows on the telly.

Some of the toys I've seen are sure dillies. Take those huge, expensive, motorized carnival toys, pieces of plastic that go round and round. That's all they do. They are strictly spectator toys.

I'll bet they'll bore a child faster than anything else. Kids will run them a while on Christmas day, and then forget them in favor of something else, something that lets them get into the act.

Recently a magazine article deplored the modern aircraft models, those already built pieces of plastic, which are so much more spectator toys than the "stick" models we used to build out of balsa sticks, glue and paper with rubber band motors.

I'll subscribe to the thesis of that article. When we built a model plane from the ground up, they realy belonged to us. We put something of ourselves into them with the hours we spent putting them together.

Actually the stick models are still here. Wayne Gallup is sticking to the stick models in his shop. I'm for that. We need more participation-type toys, not fewer.

Too much we hand our children anything and everything on a silver platter. The work is all done. We rob them of doing things themselves. We rob them of the sense of accomplishment they can derive from doing things for themselves.

I learned a lot building a wooden model of a plane to "fly" with wooden propellors that go around when Stevie runs with the plane, or pushes it fast enough across the floor.

Because "we" made it, that plane is his pride and joy. Nothing purchased complete could take the place of that homemade toy that he helped build.

It wasn't a Christmas or birthday present, just an hour's time out in the garage, the two of us working together, but to him it was special, more important than any holiday, more satisfactory than any prepared piece of plastic.

I hope to build him a lot more toys, and let him participate in their construction. When he's old enough I hope he'll participate in building model planes, the old stick types that will let him use his hands, his ingenuity, let him learn patience and the sense of pride and accomplishment that can come from doing something for himself.

I hope too that he'll participate in life as long as he lives. I hope he'll be something more than a spectator in this world. We have too many spectators, too many who are willing to set on their brains and let George do it.

Poor old George is so tired, so overworked, that he never gets the job done, and those who are sitting and waiting let their God-given powers atrophy until they can't do it themselves.

If I allow Steve to do the same, it will be my fault he won't be able to think for himself, won't be able to do anything for himself, won't be able to carry his load, to help direct his own destiny, to help shape this world into a better one.

I'll have to participate in this world, give of myself so that he may give of himself. I'll have to not only speak, but demonstrate love, faith, hope and charity, so that he may do the same.

We all had a good example by Him whose birthday we celebrate next week. The closer I can follow that example, the closer my offspring can.

Christmas is an excelent time to re-dedicate ourselves to that, to shy away from prepared pieces of plastic on a silver platter, to increase our participation in life.

Grand Jury Audit Report

tion procedure be continued. The distribution of the complete payroll by mail has been accomplished. We recommend that consideration be given to the establishment of a bi-weekly rather than a semi-monthly payroll to allow for a standardized schedule of activities. A bi-weekly payroll would eliminate much of the present confusion concerning the preparation of the payroll and its distribution.

We wish to reiterate our prior year's recommendation concerning the use of prenumbered warrants for document control purposes.

We established a satisfactory accountability of recorded cash receipts and disbursements. The records were found to be in good order. With the exception that warrants are not adequately controlled, the accounting procedures appear to be sufficiently adequate to provide suitable control over the departmental cash transactions.
